CHANCELLOR'S MESSAGE

Congratulations, graduates.
Welcome families, friends, and guests.

Today, the graduating class of 2019 celebrates all they've achieved during their time at Thompson Rivers University. Many will be embarking on new careers and new experiences, on further scholarship and grand adventures.

You are all beginning a new journey, one that will be forever informed by your education and experiences here.

As a graduate, you will take the diversity of opinion and ideas sparked by your education to your workplace, to your community and to your country. Be mindful of the skills and knowledge you've achieved and the values you share with the world—it will influence the people around you.

Today is a day to celebrate all you've achieved with your family and friends. You've worked hard. As you prepare for the next stage, take a moment to reflect on how far you've come, and where you want to go next. Pursue your passions. Commit to lifelong learning.

Thompson Rivers University is your alma mater, and will remain a place of engagement, of learning, and of connection, regardless of where you go. You are a member of the TRU family. Stay in touch.

Again, congratulations. I wish you all the best in your future endeavours.

Nathan Matthew

Chancellor
Nathan Matthew

Nathan Matthew is TRU's third chancellor. He is from the Simpcw First Nation, an alumnus of the University of British Columbia, and a highly-regarded educator and advocate for Aboriginal education.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Welcome, graduates of 2019!

Today, with family, friends, faculty and staff, we celebrate a significant achievement in your life—one which may lead in coming years to opportunities unimagined.

When you decided to enrol at TRU, you took a step forward into your future. Through determination and the support of family, friends, faculty and staff, you gained knowledge and skills in your chosen area of study. You made friendships, some that will last your lifetime, and you became part of the TRU family.

As you step into the next stage of your life, I encourage you to carry a spirit of learning. Be inquisitive, open to others and, above all, caring. These are foundational values at TRU. They will serve you well along your journey.

As TRU alumni, you will always be members of our university family. Be sure to stay in touch. Your alumni relationships are meaningful and lifelong connections.

Following the ceremony, I invite you to linger and celebrate with others at the reception.

Congratulations, graduates! It is an honour on behalf of TRU to wish you well for your continued success.

Brett Fairbairn
President and Vice-Chancellor

Brett Fairbairn is TRU's fourth president and vice-chancellor. An alumnus of the University of Saskatchewan and the University of Oxford, Brett spent 30 years at the University of Saskatchewan in teaching and leadership positions before arriving at TRU in December 2018. He is a passionate advocate for students and higher education.

COAT OF ARMS

Granted by Robert Douglas Watt, Chief Herald of Canada, on April 1, 2005, and entered in Volume IV, page 451 of the Public Register of Arms, Flags and Badges of Canada.

Arms: The blue field refers to the brilliant skies, lakes and rivers that envelop the region where Thompson Rivers University is located. The wavy circle around the sun stands for the sacred circle of life and the never-ending character of learning. It also recalls that TRU is located near the junction of several vital water sources. The sun symbolizes light and learning, a principal endeavour behind academic institutions.

Crest: The coronet honours the Indigenous peoples of the region by acknowledging the importance of fish as food and for recreation in their communities and the community at large. The black bear represents strength, power and determination, important qualities for TRU's success. The mythical winged bear is a reference to migratory birds, suggesting perpetual striving for excellence across all faculties and programs.

Motto: T7ETSXEMÍNTE RE STSELXMÉM means "to strive ahead" in Secwepemctsín. It is TRU's motto, indicating the journey of learning is enduring and unremitting.

Supporters: The mare and stallion symbolize grace, power and endurance, characterizing TRU's approach to learning and growth. They also refer to the role of horses in farming and ranching in the region—past and present. Their sage collars reflect the distinct landscape. The collar medallions feature open books and echo the motif of the active pursuit of knowledge. The mare and stallion stand on the natural environment surrounding the university.

Original concept: Robert D. Watt, Chief Herald of Canada, assisted by the Heralds of Canadian Heraldic Authority.

Painter: Linda Nicholson

Calligrapher: Shirley Mangione

THE FLAG OF TRU

The sun that appears on TRU's flag is taken from the centre of the coat of arms. The blue field refers to the brilliant skies, lakes and rivers in the region. The sun is a symbol of light and learning. It is surrounded by a wavy circle that represents the sacred circle of life, often a symbol in Indigenous beliefs. The wavy feature of the circle also recalls that the university is located near a junction of several water sources important to all who live in the region.

CEREMONIAL MACE

The ceremonial mace was used historically to symbolize rank and protect people of authority. Today, it is a symbol of the university itself. It is carried by the registrar, who leads the academic procession and recession. The mace was conceptualized and carved by Kamloops-born Daniel Tom, a member of Tsal'alh (Seton Lake Indian Band), which is part of the Interior Salish St'át'imc Nation.

Meaning

The mace symbolizes Kamloops, a traditional meeting place of First Nations people. To represent TRU as a location for sharing cultural and academic pursuits, Tom incorporated two pieces of spruce from the area; one formed the mace, the other is the base attached to BC soapstone in the shape of spawning salmon. The three pieces embody the abstract shape of a wolf. Symbolic of TRU and local First Nations, the wolf is associated with communication and a teacher of new ideas.

The copper mace head represents the sun and moon and is adorned with four animals associated with seasons, directions, colours and life experiences on the medicine wheel. On the north is a translucent alabaster white buffalo representing family, the spiritual state and cold winter winds. A green jade field mouse sits to the south, for warm summer winds, the physical state and the future. On the east is an 18-karat-gold eagle representing cool autumn winds, the emotional state and the present. A chlorite black bear sits to the west to mark spring, the mental state and the past. Other animal motifs carved into the mace are a great blue heron, frog, coyote, bald eagle, grizzly bear and fish.

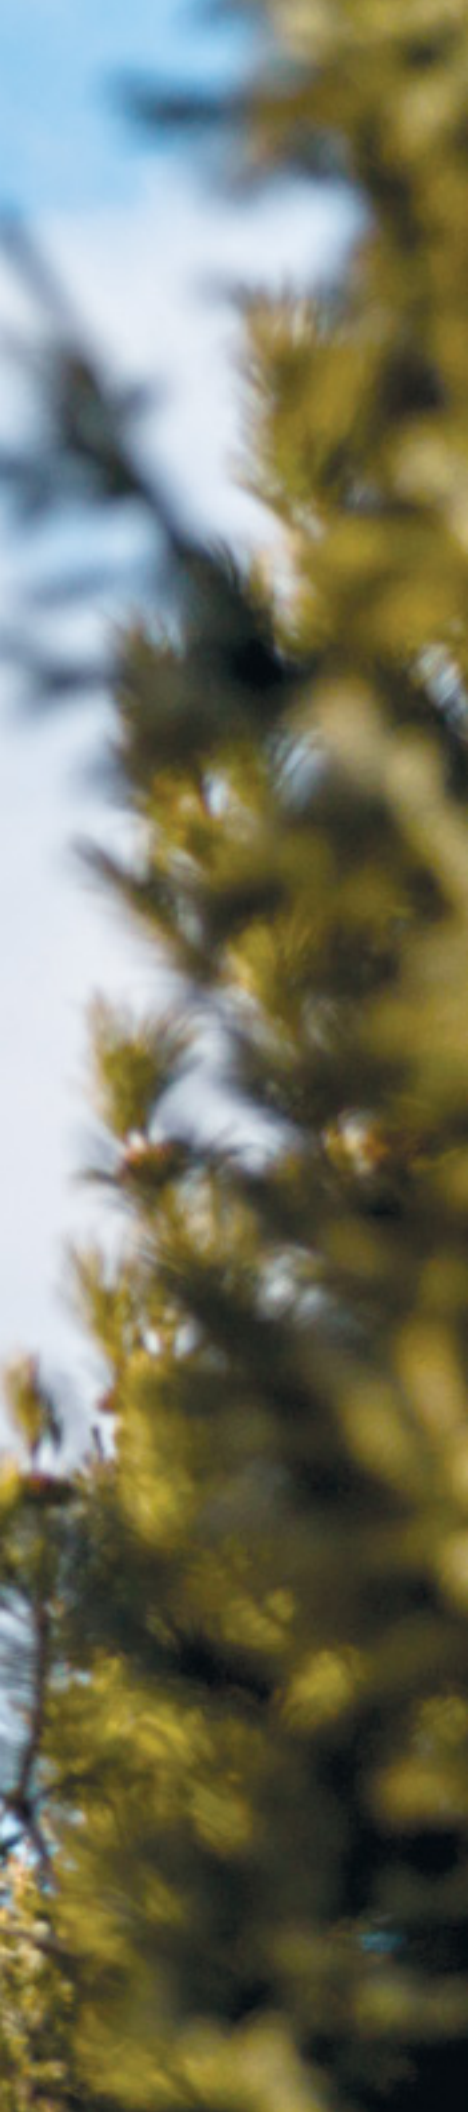
TRADITIONAL SECWÉPEMC TERRITORY

TRU's Kamloops and Williams Lake campuses are situated on traditional and unceded Secwépemc territory. There are approximately 7,000 Secwépemc people in the territory, which spans 180,000 square kilometres through the Interior plateau of south central British Columbia. The boundaries are marked by mountain ranges, grasslands and river valleys around the Fraser, and North and South Thompson rivers.

TRU has one of the largest Indigenous student populations among BC post-secondary institutions, with more than 2,000 students (about 10 percent), representing 16 First Nation and Indigenous peoples.

Coyote

The coyote sculpture created by artist John McEwen watches over campus from the top of the Brown Family House of Learning. Symbolizing the university's commitment to realizing potential, the sculpture faces toward the rising sun. It is made from bent and rolled weathered steel stars and suggests an energy or imagination of the earth and the sky.



Territorial marker

The deep relationship between the Secwépemc people and the traditional lands on which TRU resides is commemorated on campus with an Indigenous territorial marker. Created by Secwépemc artists Rod and Ron Tomma and Mike Peters, the glossy stone territorial marker was installed in the northern entrance to Old Main.

Territorial markers hold great meaning for the Secwépemc people. They are significant land forms and rocks that can represent places of mythological happenings or designated boundaries. They often include mythological beings or animals of traditional significance, such as the coyote. TRU's territorial marker is made from a rare form of quartz and is adorned with pictographs.

ACADEMIC PROCESSION

Convocation ceremonies begin with an academic procession of official representatives, faculty and students dressed in academic regalia. This colourful event represents the rich cultural and historical traditions of universities.

Academic Regalia

Distinctive academic costume has been worn in universities since their inception some 1,000 years ago. Until relatively recently, the basic items—gown, hood and mortarboard—were worn as a part of the everyday life of university. Now largely symbolic, the costume indicates through its colours, trim and lining, the degree and the university giving the award. Blue and sage, TRU's official colours, are featured on many of the academic costumes.

MEDALS

Governor General's Academic Medal (Gold)

This medal is awarded to the student considered to have achieved the highest academic accomplishment as a graduate from a master's program. It is based on the student's cumulative grade-point average and merits of their thesis or final project.

Governor General's Academic Medal (Silver)

This medal is given to a student achieving high academic status who is graduating from a baccalaureate degree program, based on the final 60 credits of the student's program.

Governor General's Academic Medal (Collegiate Bronze)

This medal is bestowed upon a student who achieves the highest overall average upon graduating from a diploma-level post-secondary program of at least two years. The chair of each school or department identifies two candidates who best meet the criteria.

Lieutenant-Governor's Medal

This medal is earned by the top-ranking student in a vocational or career/technical program of less than two years. The student must have a minimum 80 percent average while participating in the university or community.

Law Society of British Columbia Gold Medal

This medal is awarded to the graduating law student with the highest academic standing over the three-year program.

TRU Baccalaureate Medals

One medal is given to a graduating student in each TRU baccalaureate degree program who achieves the highest grade-point average over the final 60 credits.

MUSIC

Processional by Sage Hills

Sage Hills' name represents the Kamloops area—Tk'emlúps as it is known to the Secwépemc people, "where the rivers meet"—and where the group makes their home.

Formed in the winter of 2003, Sage Hills was a finalist for the Indigenous Music Awards and the Canadian Aboriginal Music Awards in 2011.

The drummers have several different tribal affiliations: Stoney, Sioux, Blood, Secwépemc, Syilx, Dakelh, Ts'ilhqot'in and Sto:lo First Nations.

Recessional by Kevin MacDonald, Piper at Large

TRU piper at large Kevin MacDonald has had the honour of summoning the spirit of Kamloops' Scottish links to the university's convocation ceremonies for the past 20 years.

He has performed internationally as a professional soloist and pipe band member, and wears both the Modern MacDonald and MacDonald of the Isles tartans.

National Anthem

O Canada! is sung at the beginning of each ceremony.

> O Canada!
> Our home and native land!
> True patriot love in all of us command.
> with glowing hearts we see thee rise,
> The True North strong and free!
> From far and wide,
> O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
> God keep our land glorious and free!
> O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
> O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

> O Canada!
> Terre de nos aïeux,
> Ton front est ceint de fleurons glorieux!
> Car ton bras sait porter l'épée,
> Il sait porter la croix!
> Ton histoire est une épopée
> Des plus brillants exploits.
> Et ta valeur, de foi trempée,
> Protégera nos foyers et nos droits.
> Protégera nos foyers et nos droits.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS

TRU's Honorary Degrees are awarded by the Board of Governors on the recommendation of the TRU Senate. The Honorary Doctorate is the highest form of recognition offered by TRU and is awarded to persons of provincial, national or international stature who have demonstrated excellence in the fields of public affairs, the sciences, arts, humanities, business or philanthropy, with achievements both relevant and appropriate to TRU.

Mr. Charles Mossop
Doctor of Letters, honoris causa

Charles Mossop is a pioneer in the international education sector. A lifelong champion of the value of internationalization, he established TRU as a leading destination for students from around the world, and helped to lay the foundations of British Columbia's international education system. As co-ordinator and then executive director of the International Education department, he expanded field schools, spearheaded international development projects, proactively recruited students and established specialized, culturally-sensitive support through an international student advisor team, an acclaimed model that has since been adopted across Canada. His concurrent emphasis on involving faculty in project work helped to internationalize the academic sector. A trusted mentor, he contributed to the spirit of collaboration that continues to inform BC's international education field to this day. His innovative efforts to internationalize education stem from a belief in embracing our differences through diversity and inclusion. He exemplifies the international perspective TRU aims to foster in its students.

Dr. Pauline van den Driessche
Doctor of Letters, honoris causa

Dr. Pauline van den Driessche is a preeminent mathematician whose pioneering research continues to play a significant role in global health. She is internationally recognized for her work in linear algebra, especially the area of combinatorial matrix analysis, and is at the forefront of mathematical epidemiology, developing new methods for studying the dynamics of diseases such as AIDS, influenza, tuberculosis and West Nile Virus. Equally impactful has been her devotion to teaching and mentoring countless young academics throughout her career at the University of Victoria. The author of approximately 240 peer-reviewed publications, she was named a Thompson Reuters Highly Cited Researcher in 2014, as one of 99 of the world's most influential mathematicians. This year she has been named the winner of the Canadian Applied and Industrial Mathematics Society Research Prize. Her achievements exemplify the value of scholarship in service to society that TRU strives to foster in its students.

Mr. Karl deBruijn
Doctor of Letters, honoris causa

Karl deBruijn is an educator, community leader and philanthropist who has devoted his career to the development of education in the Kamloops area. In 1977, he started nearly four decades with School District 73, teaching for 10 years, serving as co-ordinator and then principal and administrator of the McQueen Lake Environmental Education Centre, and as principal of George Hilliard and Parkcrest schools. Senior roles in the district followed, and he spent his final two years before retirement in 2016 as CEO and superintendent of schools. His leadership in the community includes serving as chair of the TRU Board of Governors and the 2017 Special Olympics BC Summer Games, and as past president of the Kamloops YMCA/YWCA board. His longstanding commitment to advancing education at the elementary, secondary and post-secondary level for all learners in the region demonstrates the leadership and vision TRU aims to foster in its students.

Ms. Tantoo Cardinal
Doctor of Letters, honoris causa

Tantoo Caroline Rose Cardinal is Métis and a celebrated actress of stage, screen and television. Throughout her career, her strong portrayals and determined pursuit of truth have helped break barriers in the onscreen representation of Indigenous people. Arguably the most widely-recognized Indigenous actress of her generation, she has appeared in blockbusters such as Legends of the Fall, Dances with Wolves and Black Robe, and in recurring roles in the television series Blackstone, Arctic Air, The Killing, North of 60 and Longmire. She has won numerous industry awards, and her passionate support for the growth and development of Indigenous performing arts has led to national recognition, including the Order of Canada in 2009 and a Canadian Screen Award for lifetime achievement. Her remarkable legacy of honouring Indigenous people and stories through the arts demonstrates the perseverance and commitment to equality that TRU strives to foster in its students.

Mr. Mike Wiegele
Doctor of Laws, honoris causa

Mike Wiegele is a ski coach, guide and entrepreneur who is largely responsible for developing the backcountry ski industry in Canada, and safety in sport. He founded the Canadian Ski Guide Association, which became the industry standard for training ski guides, and initiated Canadian avalanche research. A ski racer throughout the 1960s, his passion for the sport eventually led him to open the Lake Louise Ski School, where he coached many young skiers to international success. Seeing an opportunity to grow the heli-ski industry, he founded Mike Wiegele Helicopter Skiing in 1970 and built it into the world's second-largest heli-ski company. He received the Governor General's Award for Bravery in 1990 and was inducted into the Canadian Ski Hall of Fame in 2000. His lifelong contributions to the development of adventure tourism provincially and nationally epitomize the pursuit of excellence that TRU strives to foster in its students.

Anh (Colddy) Nguyen

Faculty of Education and Social Work

It's a long way from Da Nang, in central Vietnam, to Kamloops, BC. Anh (Colddy) Nguyen wanted to get an international education and his research brought him to TRU, where he has completed his English as a Second Language program so he can now move on to study business administration. In Vietnam, he volunteered in a group that supported orphanages and he plans to get more involved in clubs and volunteering on campus. He was nominated by his ESL instructor for the Yoshi Ozawa Award. Nguyen's goal is to earn his master of business administration degree at TRU, then do a three-year internship in Canada to put his skills into practice. After that, he wants to work internationally before returning to Vietnam to take over his family's restaurant business.

Vimaljeet Singh

School of Business and Economics

Vimaljeet Singh has enjoyed making a new family in Kamloops and at TRU. He is unlocking his potential through his post-baccalaureate diploma in International Business. He volunteered with the TRUSU Services Committee to promote its services to students, with TRU World's IDays events and student orientation, and as a student mentor. He collected enough hours to qualify for the Tim Hortons Scholarship Program and won first prize for the fastest line-following robot in a short-term coding workshop. After getting a couple of years of work experience, he aspires to take a Master of Data Science program where his math, stats and programming skills will help him excel in this specialized field.

VALEDICTORIAN

Marco Lussetti

Faculty of Science

Graduating from the Bachelor of Computing Science program and focusing on full-stack development and machine learning, Marco Lussetti appreciated that TRU's small classes fostered direct interaction and research opportunities with instructors. He worked on generative adversarial neural networks, big data reduction and mobile apps development and his work was featured at the Undergraduate Research and Innovation Conference. He served as a board member of the Computing Science Club, where he organized and taught free student workshops. He received the CUPE 4879, Dr. Sherman Jen Science and Rob Horne Memorial Computing Science scholarships. He plans to live in Kamloops after graduation.

VALEDICTORIAN

Makenzie Vandertoolen

School of Nursing

Makenzie Vandertoolen has always been about helping people, so it was a natural fit for her to go into nursing. And when it came to choosing a place to study, she kept hearing about TRU as having one of the best nursing programs around. Vandertoolen excelled in the program, attending numerous conferences, being on the dean's Student Liaison Committee and holding the position of vice-president of the TRU Nursing Undergraduate Society for three years. That latter society developed a self-sustaining award for an exceptional nursing student. Vandertoolen has already been snapped up by Penticton Regional Hospital, where she works on a cardiac ward and plans to train for critical-care nursing.

Devon Banks

Faculty of Arts

Devon Banks did her homework before choosing a university and program. The Alberta student knew several people who highly recommended TRU and she discovered the communications program fit with her passion for music and events. Banks made her mark assisting with creating weekly events at the Commodore Grand Lounge and Café that united artists and students through music nights as well as being a teaching assistant in her final year. She was awarded the TRU Arts Merit Award in the winter of 2018 and twice won the Jennie Zwarich Memorial Bursary. After graduation, she looks forward to travelling to Vietnam to teach English while building up her freelance portfolio as a social media content specialist.

VALEDICTORIAN

Fauve Garson

Faculty of Adventure, Culinary Arts and Tourism

Fauve Garson is graduating with her Bachelor of Tourism Management degree. She was a research assistant and coach, and conducted independent research through the Undergraduate Research Experience Award Program. An avid volunteer on and off campus—and a member of the Professional Convention Management Association—she participated in her faculty's dean search committee, thrice made the Dean's List and won Best Student Research Paper at a tourism conference in South Africa. Fauve received the Research-Informed Learning, Shaver, TOTA Tourism Excellence and Wells Gray Tours Scholarships as well as the Ken Lepin Award of Excellence. She hopes to study sustainability in the tourism industry after pursuing graduate studies in environmental science.

FOUNDATION

This is a life-changing day.

Your life at university, with its books, assignments, exams and hours of study, is done.

Your life after university, with its resumés, careers and a wide-open future, is about to begin. There's so much uncertainty and potential waiting for you.

Today, the TRU Foundation Board, staff and volunteers celebrate with you, wishing you success and happiness, however you define them.

We hope you benefit from your education at TRU for the rest of your life. And we hope you find ways to make the world a better place, as cliché as that sounds. We can all do something to help others. As you step into the future, we hope you remember those who played a role in your education.

The TRU Foundation was created to help others—specifically, students. This non-profit society raises money for financial support and scholarships for more than 1,000 students every year. Almost 3,000 TRU graduates, just like you, have given $3 million to other students over the years.

You can help someone get an education at TRU. As a new graduate, you might not have much money to give. But it isn't about the amount. It's about all levels of support that help others realize a bright future. Those who can't give money often give their time. Volunteers are also important and highly valued by the foundation.

Your future is bright. We ask that you think about leaving a legacy to light the way for others.

Make a tax-deductible donation or sign up to volunteer by getting in touch.

ALUMNI FOR LIFE

Dear graduates,

Congratulations on your academic achievement at TRU. You've worked hard and made the grade. You should be proud of what you've accomplished while you look forward to what comes next.

Whatever the future brings, please do not think that this is the end of your connection with TRU. The university has prepared you for another phase in your life, but that does not mean you need to leave your time and experiences at TRU behind.

You can be a part of the TRU alumni community that has been building since 1970. It has more than 57,000 members—family, really—who are spread throughout 87 countries. Stay connected with TRU and your classmates through the Alumni and Friends Association in many ways: regional events and socials, benefits and services, awards, stories, newsletters and Bridges magazine. And, of course, there is a website that puts it all in one place: tru.ca/alumni.

with TRU turning 50 in 2020, there's even more reason to sign up and stay in touch.

The association wants to know about the places you go and the things you do. TRU is proud of its graduates, and the Alumni and Friends Association wants to help everyone who has been influenced by the university to remain in touch.

So as you go forward and lead your life after university, remember that you are still a part of TRU and a community that wants to continue to celebrate your achievements.

Again, congratulations on reaching this remarkable day and best wishes for all that you do. You are alumni for life.
