Chancellor's Welcome

The Honourable
Wally Oppal, QC

Congratulations, graduating class of 2017.

Welcome guests, families, and friends.

Inclusive, innovative learning is a hallmark of Thompson Rivers University, a model which has resulted in the diversity of certificates, diplomas, and degrees you will receive today. Through your learning here, in and outside the classroom, you are well prepared for your future pursuits in the workplace, in further scholarship, and in society.

Apply your new-found expertise and ideas as you reflect upon Canada's 150 years of confederation. As members of our society, be mindful of the values instilled in you here. Uphold diversity and free thought, a spirit of innovation, and a commitment to lifelong learning.

Our community and country share your pride in your accomplishment, and the hope that the knowledge and skills you have gained here will help you build a better world.

You have worked hard for this achievement. Savour it as you celebrate with your family and friends.

I wish you all the best for the future, and encourage you to stay in touch with your alma mater, Thompson Rivers University.

Once again, congratulations.

Sincerely,

Wally Oppal
Chancellor
Thompson Rivers University

President and Vice-Chancellor's Welcome

Dr. Alan Shaver

Welcome graduates. Today, with family, friends, faculty and staff, we celebrate your academic and professional milestones. Congratulations to each of you for successfully reaching your goals.

At TRU you have embraced many opportunities for learning, service and leadership here in our community or halfway around the globe. Ideas, people, challenges and possibilities have inspired you. The support and encouragement of family, friends, faculty and staff have kept you on the path to success. You found your TRU.

Now you embark on new paths of study, travel or work that will take you places literally and figuratively you may have never imagined. I encourage you to be a global citizen, to carry TRU's inclusionary and diverse spirit and vision with you. To imagine, create, innovate, inspire and lead. As TRU alumni, you will forever remain a member of our university family, representing Thompson Rivers University everywhere you go.

Following the ceremony, I invite you to celebrate with your friends, family, faculty and staff at the reception.

Alan Shaver
President and Vice-Chancellor
Thompson Rivers University

Coat of Arms

As granted by Robert Douglas Watt, Chief Herald of Canada, on 1 April 2005 and entered in Volume IV, Page 451 of the Public Register of Arms, Flags and Badges of Canada.

Arms: The blue field refers to the brilliant skies, lakes and rivers that envelop the region where Thompson Rivers University is located. The wavy circle around the sun represents the sacred circle of life, a central tenet in First Nations belief systems. It also stands for the never-ending character of learning. Lastly, the wavy feature of the circle recalls that the university is located near a junction of several water sources vital to the First Nations of the region. The sun is a symbol of light and learning, a principal endeavour behind academic institutions.

Crest: The coronet honours the indigenous peoples of the region by acknowledging the important role of fish as a food source and for recreational purposes in both their community and the community at large. The black bear, frequently seen on campus, represents strength, power and determination, qualities seen as vital to the success of Thompson Rivers University. Represented as a mythic creature, the winged bear allows for a further connection to the presence of migratory birds, thus suggesting perpetual striving for excellence across all faculties and programs.

Motto: T7ETSXEMÍNTE RE STSELXMÉM means “to strive ahead” in Shuswap. It is the existing motto of Thompson Rivers University and indicates that the journey of learning is enduring and unremitting.

Supporters: The mare and stallion symbolize grace, power and endurance which characterize the institution’s approach to learning and growth. They also refer to the major role horses play in farming and ranching activities associated with this region, both in the past and present. Their collars of sage are a reference to the distinctive local landscape. The medallions hanging from the collars feature open books and echo the motif of the active pursuit of knowledge. The mare and stallion stand on a representation of the local natural environment surrounding the university.

Original concept of Robert D. Watt, Chief Herald of Canada, assisted by the Heralds of Canadian Heraldic Authority.

Painter: Linda Nicholson

Calligrapher: Shirley Mangione

Academic Procession

Convocation ceremonies begin with an Academic Procession of official representatives, faculty and students dressed in academic regalia. This colourful event represents the rich cultural and historical traditions of universities.

Academic Regalia

Distinctive academic costume has been worn in universities since their inception some one thousand years ago. Until relatively recently, such costume was worn as a part of the everyday life of university. Indeed, historically, university faculty and students received firm instructions to wear gowns to tutorials, examinations and formal dinners.

The gown, hood, and mortarboard are the basic items of academic costume, and originally had practical functions. The hood, for example, was specifically created to be pulled over the head to provide protection from inclement weather. However, the costume now has a symbolic function, and indicates through its colours, trim and lining, the degree and the university giving the award. Blue and sage, Thompson Rivers University's official colours, are featured on many of the academic costumes.

Ceremonial Mace

Chief among the elements of Convocation is the ceremonial mace. Historically, the mace symbolizes rank and was used to protect people of authority. The ceremonial mace is now a symbol of the university itself. It is carried by the Registrar who leads the academic procession and recession.

Thompson Rivers University's mace was conceptualized and carved by Kamloops-born Daniel Tom, a member of Seton Lake Band, which is part of the St'at'imc Nation, one of the Interior Salish Nations. The mace symbolizes Kamloops, the traditional meeting place of the First Nations people.

To represent TRU as a meeting place for sharing cultural and academic pursuits, Daniel Tom incorporated two pieces of spruce from the Kamloops area. One piece is used for the mace, the other is the base attached to BC soapstone in the shape of spawning salmon, and together the three pieces meet, embodying the characteristics of an abstract wolf. The wolf—symbolic of TRU and local First Nations—is an animal associated with communication and a teacher of new ideas. The mace head, made from copper, represents the sun and moon, and is adorned with four animals representative of the medicine wheel associated with seasons, directions, colours and life experiences. Positioned in the north is a white buffalo carved from translucent alabaster, representing family and indicating the direction cold winter winds come from and the spiritual state. A green fieldmouse carved from jade sits in the south symbolizing the direction of the warm summer winds, the physical state and the future. In the east is an eagle cast in 18k gold, representing the cool autumn wind direction, the emotional state and the present. A black bear carved from black chlorite sits in the west and is indicative of spring, the mental state and the past.

To show our connection to the environment, the mace is fashioned with only natural materials and colours. Other animal motifs also carved into the mace are the patient and wise great blue heron, which is significant to the Seton Lake Band. The salmon is prevalent as an Interior of British Columbia theme of prosperity and sustenance. A frog shape leaps over the heron's head towards the water and is typical of transformation. Other forms that emerge from the wood grain are coyote, bald eagle, grizzly bear, and fish.

National Anthem

O Canada!

Our home and native land!
True patriot love in all thy sons command.

With glowing hearts we see thee rise,
The True North strong and free!

From far and wide,
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

God keep our land glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

O Canada!

O Canada! Terre de nos aïeux,
Ton front est ceint de fleurons glorieux!

Car ton bras sait porter l'épée,
Il sait porter la croix!

Ton histoire est une épopée
Des plus brillants exploits.

Et ta valeur, de foi trempée,
Protégera nos foyers et nos droits.

Protégera nos foyers et nos droits.

Honorary Degree Recipients

CAPTAIN DAVID SAKAKI
DOCTOR OF LETTERS,
HONORIS CAUSA

Capt. David Sakaki is a well-known Kamloops firefighter and global humanitarian who has impacted the lives of thousands around the world. Founder of the Kamloops Firefighters Operation Nicaragua and a Rapid Response Team Leader for Global Medic, he has assisted in dozens of international medical and humanitarian projects since 2007. Through Operation Nicaragua, he has brought clothing, medical supplies, school supplies, fire-fighting equipment and training to some of Nicaragua's poorest communities. Global Medic missions have taken him to the Philippines, Japan, India, Nepal and Greece, where he assisted Syrian refugees in 2015. In honour of his outstanding volunteer work at home and around the globe, he was recognized nationally with a Queen Elizabeth Diamond Jubilee Medal in 2012, and was named Honorary Commander of the Fire Fighters of Nicaragua in 2014.

David Sakaki's dedication to assisting communities in need demonstrates the global citizenship that TRU aims to foster in our students.

DR. ROGER STRASSER
DOCTOR OF LAWS,
HONORIS CAUSA

Dr. Roger Strasser is an internationally-recognized leader in health care reform and one of the world's foremost authorities in rural medical education. He is the founding dean and CEO of the Northern Ontario School of Medicine (NOSM) at Lakehead University in Thunder Bay and at Laurentian University in Sudbury, the first Canadian medical school established with an explicit social accountability mandate to improve the health of people and communities in the region it serves. Since 2002 NOSM's unique model of community-engaged learning has supported recruitment, retention and socio-economic development in historically underserved communities across northern Ontario. As one of the few professors of rural health in the world, Strasser also leads research relating to socially-accountable health professional education, recruitment and retention of health professionals, and rural health service delivery models.

Roger Strasser's impact on health care in remote and rural communities worldwide represents the visionary leadership that TRU aims to foster in our students.

TRU's Honorary Degrees are awarded by the Board of Governors on the recommendation of the TRU Senate. The Honorary Doctorate is the highest form of recognition offered by TRU and is awarded to persons of provincial, national or international stature who have demonstrated excellence in the fields of public affairs, the sciences, arts, humanities, business or philanthropy, with achievements both relevant and appropriate to TRU.

MR. RUDY BUTTIGNOL
DOCTOR OF LETTERS,
HONORIS CAUSA

Mr. Rudy Buttignol is an internationally acclaimed documentary filmmaker and producer who has contributed to the growth and quality of Canadian documentary filmmaking for more than 40 years. A tireless advocate for the arts in his role as president and CEO of British Columbia's Knowledge Network, one of Canada's most respected public broadcasters, Buttignol has directly impacted the success and international reputation of Canada's film and television industry. In recognition of his contributions to Canadian documentary filmmaking and his role in transforming the Knowledge Network, he was awarded a Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Medal in 2013, and was appointed a member of the Order of Canada in 2015. The founding chair of the Documentary Organization of Canada, he has also served on the boards of several international film festivals.

Rudy Buttignol's passion to educate through the arts exemplifies the lifelong quest for knowledge TRU aims to foster in our students.

SENATOR MURRAY SINCLAIR
DOCTOR OF LAWS,
HONORIS CAUSA

Senator Murray Sinclair is an Ojibway-Canadian judge and First Nations lawyer, well-regarded for his stature in the legal field. Since 2009 he has gained wider recognition as the Chief Commissioner for the Truth and Reconciliation Commission, which has provided Canadians with a better understanding of what happened in residential schools and a clearer path toward reconciliation. Sinclair is Manitoba's first Aboriginal judge, and has been a member of the Manitoba Court of Queen's Bench since 2001. He was appointed to the Canadian Senate in March of 2016. In his accomplished career, he has helped lead some of the most significant inquiries of our nation, resulting in deep and profound changes in national policies as well as collective perspectives of our Canadian history in regards to Aboriginal peoples.

Murray Sinclair's commitment to reconciliation and strengthened relations among all Canadians represents the intercultural understanding TRU aims to foster in our students.

Professors/Educators Emeriti

SURINDER DHANJAL PROFESSOR EMERITUS

Dr. Surinder Dhanjal retired in 2016 after a distinguished 27-year career at TRU. He taught a wide variety of computing science and mathematics courses in many program areas, including tourism, forestry, natural resource science, humanities, business and engineering. His credentials include master's degrees in electrical engineering (1980) and computation (1988), and PhDs in literature (2005) and computer science (2014). Part of the team of educators who led the growth of this institution from Cariboo College to TRU, Dhanjal designed and delivered many new courses. He was a member of the UCC Educational Council, co-chair of the TRU Research Committee of Science and has chaired the steering committee of the Western Canadian Conference on Computing Education since 2007. His research interests include digital speech processing, numerical computation and computer science education, and his papers have been published in more than eight countries. TRU will continue to benefit from Surinder Dhanjal's expertise as Professor Emeritus.

SUSAN DUNCAN PROFESSOR EMERITA

Dr. Susan Duncan retired in July 2016 after 27 years with the School of Nursing, during which she taught, served as dean, conducted research and served on many committees and associations. Duncan assisted in bringing valuable funding dollars to TRU, including more than $250,000 in support of Aboriginal students and Aboriginal health nursing, and took a lead role in drafting a policy document committing the school to respond to the Truth and Reconciliation Calls to Action applicable to nursing education and practice. A founding member of TRU's research and ethics committee, she received a TRU Scholarly Merit Award in 2003 and assisted in the development of the school's new Master of Nursing program. In addition to leadership, advocacy and policy development, she has dedicated herself to educating nursing students for community nursing roles and including them in research and scholarly activities. TRU will continue to benefit from Susan Duncan's expertise as Professor Emerita.

This designation recognizes individuals who have contributed much to Thompson Rivers University and the community over the years, and who, after retirement, wish to continue a supportive relationship with Thompson Rivers University, its faculty and its students.

SUSAN ROSS EDUCATOR EMERITA

Ms. Susan Ross retired in 2016 as one of the most respected nurse instructors in the School of Nursing and across BC, well known in her 14-year career at TRU for her compassion, caring and high standards of nursing care. The course she developed, Death and Dying, has become one of the most popular electives both for nursing and non-nursing students. Outside of her hands-on instructional work, Ross has actively helped shape educational policies and practices within the School of Nursing. In 2013, her teaching expertise was recognized externally when she received a College of Registered Nurses of British Columbia (CRNBC) Award of Excellence in Nursing Education, for demonstrated excellence in nursing education in her work setting. Whether she's in the classroom, clinical setting or presenting in the community, she has a natural ability to connect with nurses, nurture them and help them evolve. TRU will continue to benefit from Susan Ross' expertise as Educator Emerita.

Building our Future Together

Congratulations to all TRU graduates on your achievements. Enjoy this momentous day — you have earned it! The TRU Foundation Board of Directors, volunteers and staff extend their warmest wishes for your future success.

Wondering what the Foundation is? The Foundation is a non-profit society made up of community leaders who work hard to provide financial aid and scholarships to nearly 1,000 students. The current value of the Foundation's Endowment funds stands at over $20.1 million.

As you transition from student to graduate, you become a member of a successful alumni legacy spanning almost 50 years. We encourage all graduates to pay this success forward to future students by making a donation to the university. Giving back to future graduates will impact the next generation of success stories and will cement your legacy at TRU. Join the 2,800 alumni who, to date, have donated more than $6.8 million towards student success at TRU.

Donations to the TRU Foundation are tax deductible. You can designate your gift to the program you graduated from or to a specific student award.

No money? No problem. You can also give back by donating your time to Foundation events. Volunteers are the backbone of our success.

Alumni for Life

Congratulations. You are the newest members of the TRU Alumni & Friends Association. The alumni community you are joining began in 1970 and is over 57,000 strong, and spread over 87 countries. Like any strong community, we take pride in your accomplishments and those of your classmates. Please keep us informed about where life takes you and follow us on social media for information on events, news and other opportunities.

The Alumni office is here to continue to provide a selection of services to our graduates, so please visit tru.ca/alumni often to stay updated on discounts, news, volunteer opportunities, career services and social events.

Do not miss a chance to re-connect. Each year, the alumni office travels to meet graduates in cities across Canada and around the world. There are also chances to volunteer to talk to prospective students in your area. Keep your contact information updated to receive emails and invitations.

As alumni of TRU, thank you in advance for being ambassadors and helping show the world the value of a TRU education.

Once again, congratulations and welcome. You are an integral part of this worldwide network.

Keep in touch.
