WEEKEND UNIVERSITY

The Cariboo Chilcotin Weekend University Program is a joint initiative whereas UNBC and TRU are working with the Northern Shuswap Tribal Council to provide Accredited Post Secondary courses. During the Fall and Winter semesters, the courses are offered on a part-time basis (alternate weekends) to allow the students to work or raise their families. During the Spring/Summer Session I, due to the limited time frame, the courses run each weekend. During Summer Session II, the courses run on consecutive weekdays. Weekend University is open to the students of the 15 First Nations Bands in the Cariboo Chilcotin and non-Aboriginal students (space permitting - generally available).

First Nation Students interested in these courses must contact the Weekend University Coordinator, Cindy Charleyboy, at (250)392-7361 or email weekendu@nstq.org to register.

PARTNER ASSISTED LEARNING (PAL)

| |
|--|
| PARTNER ASSISTED LEARNING (PAL) Program Description Based in Williams Lake, PAL is a community partnership program designed to provide one-to-one adult literacy tutoring to the City and surrounding areas. PAL is located at the Williams Lake Campus of Thompson Rivers University and supports up to 20 adults, from non-readers to Grade 12 level, who have challenges with classroom, online courses, or with the literacy skills needed for everyday life. Scheduling is arranged to suit the learner and the tutoring focuses on their individual needs. Support is also available for those with ESL challenges. The program is free of charge and all inquiries are confidential. Contact Shirley-Pat Gale, PAL Coordinator, at (250)392-8161 for more information. PAL is run by the Cariboo Chilcotin Partners for Literacy Society in partnership with TRU and the Ministry of Advanced Education and Labour Market Development. |
