

Hi my name is Jagmesh Randhawa, I am born and raised in Kamloops, BC and this is my second year in the Business program at Thompson Rivers University. I enjoy volunteering for and taking part in most campus activities. I am a volunteer for the Kamloops Food Bank and the Sikh Cultural Society. I am a representative for this group and my responsibility is to look after funds and donations for various activities. Through these two agencies I have gained many communication and analytical skills that have increased my ability to work in a team, and be a great leader. I have learnt a great amount of team bonding experiences and I feel this will really help me connect with the student body, and when decision making as a community trust representative, if elected. What motivated me to run for community trust is the amount of TRU students who are dissatisfied with their rights, and even my own experiences within this institution. If I am elected, I will make sure that all voices of the study body are heard, and with this position I will be able to direct the affairs of the institution and set policies in accordance with the TRU Act. I will continue to make sure students' voices are heard and a positive change is brought forward. I have acknowledged the issues brought up and have fully understood them, and I will continue to bring positive change for the students and try my best to make the right decisions for the student body of TRU.

I would like to thank you all for taking time to read what matters to me and how I can help make this great institution a better place for all if the chance is given to me.

Yours truly,
Jagmesh Randhawa
