COURSE DESCRIPTIONS AND DATES

Each course consists of nine, two-hour sessions for a total of 18 hours of instruction. Courses will be held on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 7 - 9 p.m. Pacific Time.

JANUARY 12 - 28, 2021: STRATEGIES FOR SUCCESS: Successful candidates know that mental preparation is essential for peak performance. This course offers proven techniques for increasing motivation, maximizing study time, identifying learning styles and managing stress in healthy and effective ways.

FEBRUARY 9 - 25, 2021: VOCABULARY DEVELOPMENT: Having a limited understanding of English vocabulary can hinder progress on virtually every part of a standardized test. This course will focus on elements of the Academic Word List (AWL) and equip learners with strategies for deciphering words quickly and efficiently.

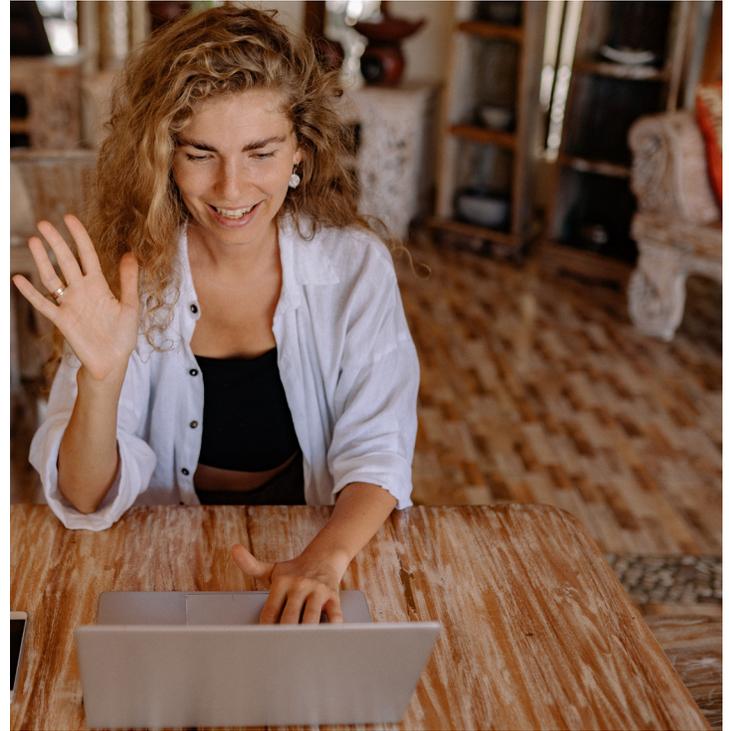

MARCH 9 - 25, 2021: GRAMMAR BOOTCAMP: Attention! Regardless of your English level, improvements can always be made. You will develop skills for identifying errors in your own writing and speaking and then develop strategies for eliminating them. You will work hard but, you will reap the rewards. Dismissed!

APRIL 13 - 29, 2021: WRITING SKILLS: Understanding the structure of paragraphs and essays can make writing tasks much more painless. You will learn how to respond to questions, how to integrate techniques that will impress examiners and how to identify and reduce errors.

MAY 11 - 27, 2021: READING SKILLS: Reading skills are an important element of using English, yet they are often neglected. Greater speed and increased comprehension will virtually guarantee a higher test score, which is the goal of this course. A wide range of reading materials will be covered in these lessons.

JUNE 8 - 24, 2021: LISTENING AND SPEAKING SKILLS: Many language learners report that listening and speaking skills are more challenging than all other English skills combined. The good news is that they can be the most fun to practice! In these sessions, you will participate in engaging activities that are designed to increase fluency and accuracy. You will soon enjoy increased confidence!
