CHANCELLOR'S MESSAGE

Congratulations, graduates.

Now is your time to reflect on all you've achieved during your time at Thompson Rivers University, and to celebrate your accomplishments with family and friends.

TRU, in our response to the COVID-19, has made significant changes to many areas of operations. I am therefore pleased to recognize your graduation virtually. As a graduate, you will take the diversity of opinion and ideas sparked by your education at TRU to your workplace, to your community and to your country. Be mindful of the skills and knowledge you've achieved and the values you share with the world—it will influence the people around you.

This year at TRU we celebrate our 50th Anniversary. It is with pride that we can hold you up to show the world that TRU, as well, is accomplishing its educational goals. Many of you will be embarking on new careers and new experiences, on further scholarship and grand adventures. You've worked hard. As you prepare for the next stage, take a moment to reflect on how far you've come, and where you want to go next. Pursue your passions. Commit to lifelong learning.

Thompson Rivers University is your alma mater, and will remain a place of engagement, of learning, and of connection, regardless of where your journey takes you. You are a member of the TRU family. Stay in touch.

Again, congratulations. I wish you continued health and accomplishment.

Nathan Matthew

Chancellor
Nathan Matthew

Nathan Matthew is TRU's third chancellor. He is from the Simpcw First Nation, an alumnus of the University of British Columbia, and a highly-regarded educator and advocate for Aboriginal education.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Greetings, graduates of 2020!

Together with friends and family, faculty and staff, I wish that we were able to celebrate with you in person. In the midst of unprecedented times in the face of COVID-19, how we celebrate life's milestones has changed around the world. However, this challenging period does not diminish this significant achievement in your life—one which opens the door to a wealth of opportunities.

When you made the choice to enrol at TRU, you chose to take control of your future. With determination and the support of family, friends, faculty and staff, you have gained knowledge and skills in your area of study and have found your path to success.

You also became part of the TRU family. You made friends, some that will last your lifetime. I encourage you to stay in touch with your alma mater, and continue to build meaningful and lifelong connections with TRU alumni.

Along with the celebration of your academic and professional milestones, we also celebrate a milestone for Thompson Rivers University: 50 years as a post-secondary institution transforming the lives of students. As part of TRU's 2020 graduating class, you represent a proud history and a promising future.

You have completed your educational journey at TRU in incredibly unusual times, despite many unexpected challenges. In doing so, you demonstrated flexibility, adaptability and perseverance. As you step into the next stage of your life, maintain that ability to work through challenges and continue to be inquisitive, caring and open to others. These characteristics have been important during your time at TRU and will serve you well on your journey ahead.

Congratulations, graduates! It is an honour on behalf of TRU to wish you continued success.

Brett Fairbairn
President and Vice-Chancellor

Brett Fairbairn is TRU's fourth president and vice-chancellor. An alumnus of the University of Saskatchewan and the University of Oxford, Brett spent 30 years at the University of Saskatchewan in teaching and leadership positions before arriving at TRU in December 2018. He is a passionate advocate for students and higher education.

THOMPSON
UNIVERSITY

COAT OF ARMS

Granted by Robert Douglas Watt, Chief Herald of Canada, on April 1, 2005, and entered in Volume IV, page 451 of the Public Register of Arms, Flags and Badges of Canada.

Arms: The blue field refers to the brilliant skies, lakes and rivers that envelop the region where Thompson Rivers University is located. The wavy circle around the sun stands for the sacred circle of life and the never-ending character of learning. It also recalls that TRU is located near the junction of several vital water sources. The sun symbolizes light and learning, a principal endeavour behind academic institutions.

Crest: The coronet honours the Indigenous peoples of the region by acknowledging the importance of fish as food and for recreation in their communities and the community at large. The black bear represents strength, power and determination, important qualities for TRU's success. The mythical winged bear is a reference to migratory birds, suggesting perpetual striving for excellence across all faculties and programs.

Motto: T7ETSXEMÍNTE RE STSELXMÉM means "to strive ahead" in Secwepemctsin. It is TRU's motto, indicating the journey of learning is enduring and unremitting.

Supporters: The mare and stallion symbolize grace, power and endurance, characterizing TRU's approach to learning and growth. They also refer to the role of horses in farming and ranching in the region—past and present. Their sage collars reflect the distinct landscape. The collar medallions feature open books and echo the motif of the active pursuit of knowledge. The mare and stallion stand on the natural environment surrounding the university.

Original concept: Robert D. Watt, Chief Herald of Canada, assisted by the Heralds of Canadian Heraldic Authority.

Painter: Linda Nicholson

Calligrapher: Shirley Mangione

THE FLAG OF TRU

The sun that appears on TRU's flag is taken from the centre of the coat of arms. The blue field refers to the brilliant skies, lakes and rivers in the region. The sun is a symbol of light and learning. It is surrounded by a wavy circle that represents the sacred circle of life, often a symbol in Indigenous beliefs. The wavy feature of the circle also recalls that the university is located near a junction of several water sources important to all who live in the region.

CEREMONIAL MACE

The ceremonial mace was used historically to symbolize rank and protect people of authority. Today, it is a symbol of the university itself. It is carried by the registrar, who leads the academic procession and recession. The mace was conceptualized and carved by Kamloops-born Daniel Tom, a member of Tsal'alh (Seton Lake Indian Band), which is part of the Interior Salish St'át'imc Nation.

Meaning

The mace symbolizes Kamloops, a traditional meeting place of First Nations people. To represent TRU as a location for sharing cultural and academic pursuits, Tom incorporated two pieces of spruce from the area; one formed the mace, the other is the base attached to BC soapstone in the shape of spawning salmon. The three pieces embody the abstract shape of a wolf. Symbolic of TRU and local First Nations, the wolf is associated with communication and a teacher of new ideas.

The copper mace head represents the sun and moon and is adorned with four animals associated with seasons, directions, colours and life experiences on the medicine wheel. On the north is a translucent alabaster white buffalo representing family, the spiritual state and cold winter winds. A green jade field mouse sits to the south, for warm summer winds, the physical state and the future. On the east is an 18-karat-gold eagle representing cool autumn winds, the emotional state and the present. A chlorite black bear sits to the west to mark spring, the mental state and the past. Other animal motifs carved into the mace are a great blue heron, frog, coyote, bald eagle, grizzly bear and fish.

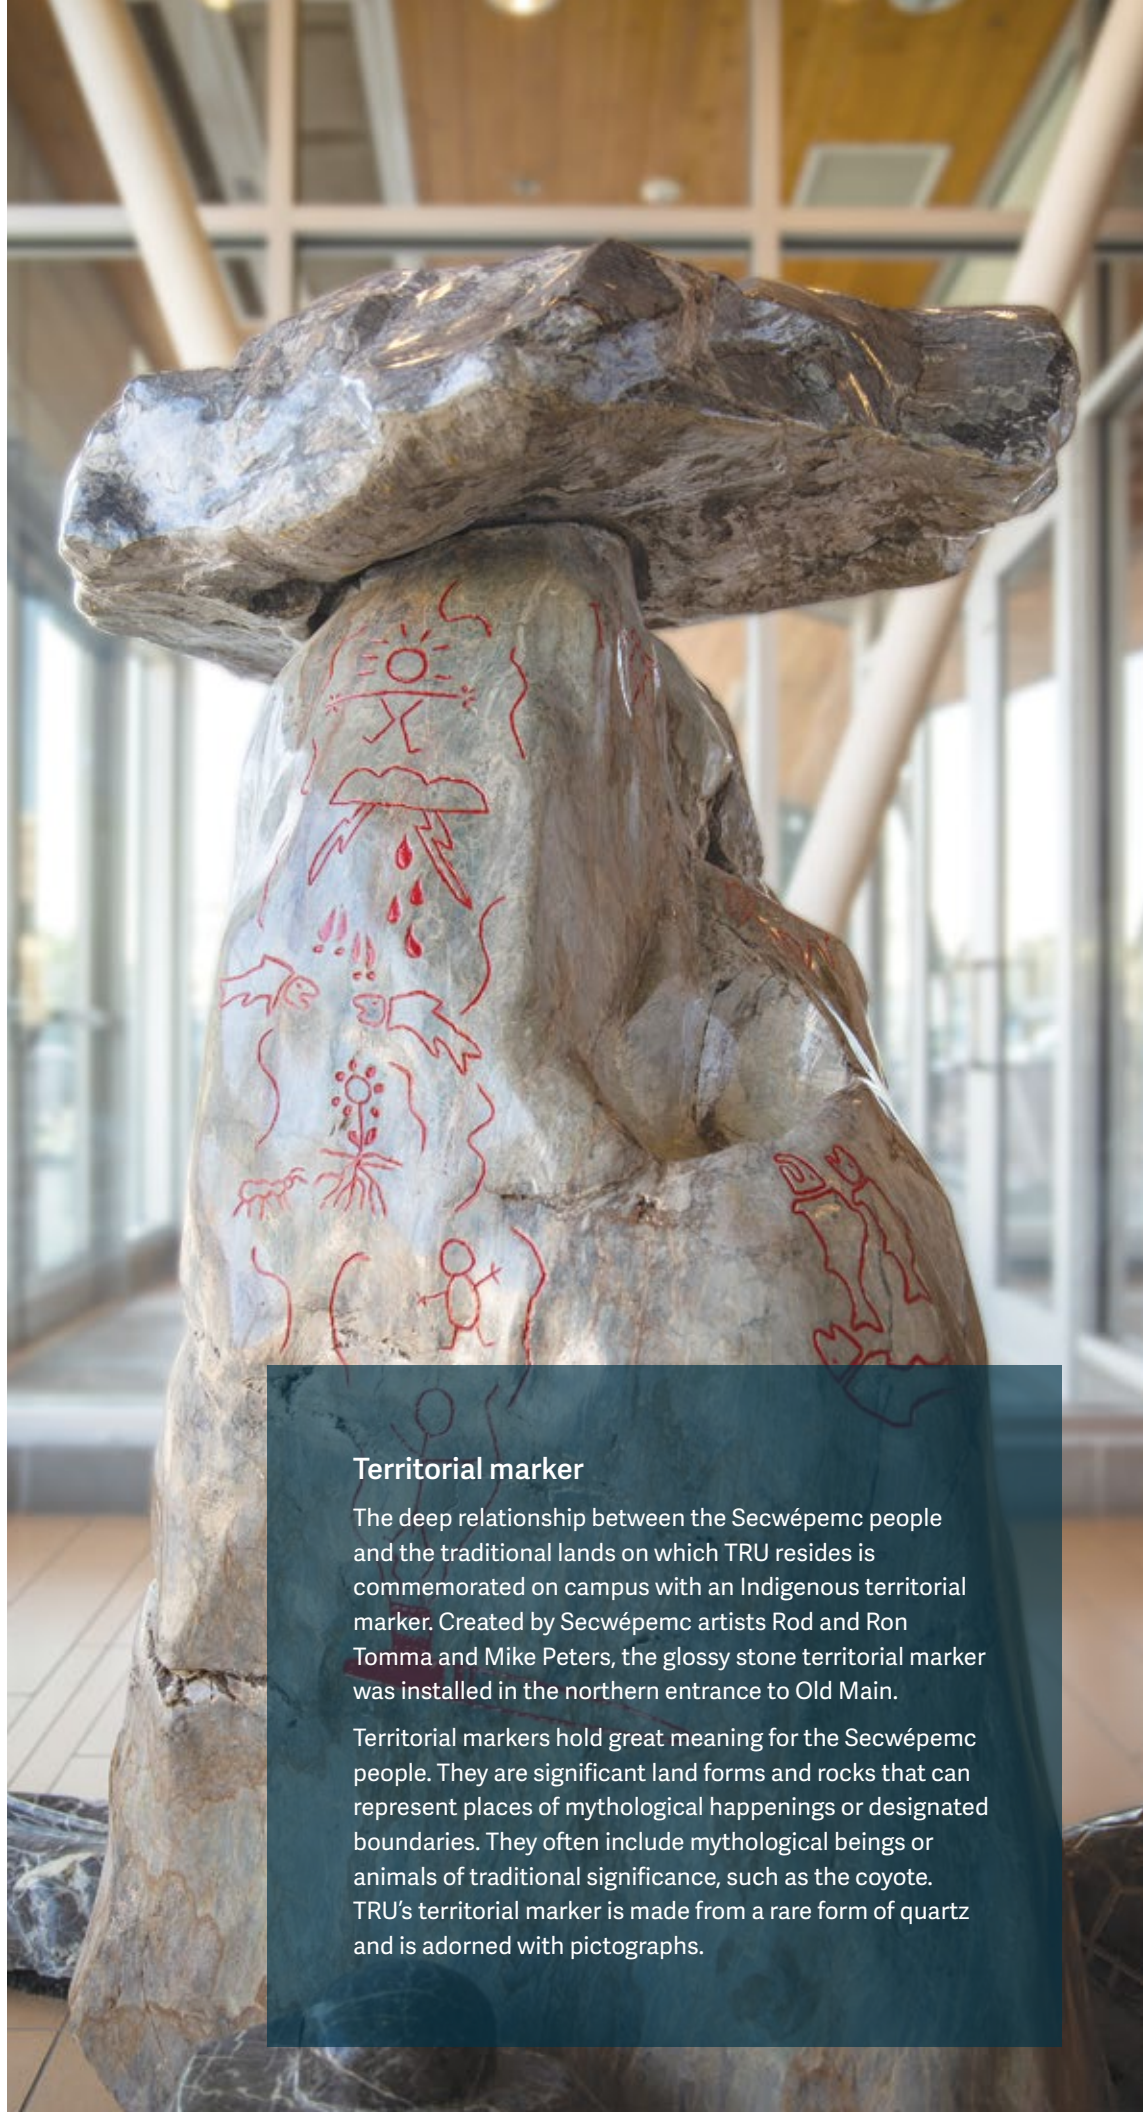

TRADITIONAL SECWÉPEMC TERRITORY

TRU's Kamloops and Williams Lake campuses are situated on traditional and unceded Secwépemc territory. There are approximately 7,000 Secwépemc people in the territory, which spans 180,000 square kilometres through the Interior plateau of south central British Columbia. The boundaries are marked by mountain ranges, grasslands and river valleys around the Fraser, and North and South Thompson rivers.

TRU has one of the largest Indigenous student populations among BC post-secondary institutions, with more than 2,000 students (about 10 percent), representing 16 First Nation and Indigenous peoples.

Coyote

The coyote sculpture created by artist John McEwen watches over campus from the top of the Brown Family House of Learning. Symbolizing the university's commitment to realizing potential, the sculpture faces toward the rising sun. It is made from bent and rolled weathered steel stars and suggests an energy or imagination of the earth and the sky.

Territorial marker

The deep relationship between the Secwépemc people and the traditional lands on which TRU resides is commemorated on campus with an Indigenous territorial marker. Created by Secwépemc artists Rod and Ron Tomma and Mike Peters, the glossy stone territorial marker was installed in the northern entrance to Old Main.

Territorial markers hold great meaning for the Secwépemc people. They are significant land forms and rocks that can represent places of mythological happenings or designated boundaries. They often include mythological beings or animals of traditional significance, such as the coyote. TRU's territorial marker is made from a rare form of quartz and is adorned with pictographs.

ACADEMIC PROCESSION

Convocation ceremonies begin with an academic procession of official representatives, faculty and students dressed in academic regalia. This colourful event represents the rich cultural and historical traditions of universities.

Academic Regalia

Distinctive academic costume has been worn in universities since their inception some 1,000 years ago. Until relatively recently, the basic items—gown, hood and mortarboard—were worn as a part of the everyday life of university. Now largely symbolic, the costume indicates through its colours, trim and lining, the degree and the university giving the award. Blue and sage, TRU's official colours, are featured on many of the academic costumes.

Certificate & Diploma Regalia

The V-stole worn by the certificate and diploma graduands includes the Thompson Rivers University official colours. It is made of pilgrim material in blue and sage.

Cords & Stoles

In addition to the degree, certificate and diploma regalia, TRU recognizes the following recipients by the wearing of cords or stoles:

POST-BACCALAUREATE GRADUATES White cord	GOVERNOR GENERAL MEDAL WINNERS White stole with navy lettering	VALEDICTORIANS Gold stole with black lettering

MEDALS

Governor General's Academic Medal (Gold)

This medal is awarded to the student considered to have achieved the highest academic accomplishment as a graduate from a master's program. It is based on the student's cumulative grade-point average and merits of their thesis or final project.

Governor General's Academic Medal (Silver)

This medal is given to a student achieving high academic status who is graduating from a baccalaureate degree program, based on the final 60 credits of the student's program.

Governor General's Academic Medal (Collegiate Bronze)

This medal is bestowed upon a student who achieves the highest overall average upon graduating from a diploma-level post-secondary program of at least two years. The chair of each school or department identifies two candidates who best meet the criteria.

Lieutenant-Governor's Medal

This medal is earned by the top-ranking student in a vocational or career/technical program of less than two years. The student must have a minimum 80 percent average while participating in the university or community.

Law Society of British Columbia Gold Medal

This medal is awarded to the graduating law student with the highest academic standing over the three-year program.

TRU Baccalaureate Medals

One medal is given to a graduating student in each TRU baccalaureate degree program who achieves the highest grade-point average over the final 60 credits.

MUSIC

Drumming by Sage Hills

Sage Hills' name represents the Kamloops area—Tk'emlúps as it is known to the Secwépemc people, "where the rivers meet"—and where the group makes their home.

Formed in the winter of 2003, Sage Hills was a finalist for the Indigenous Music Awards and the Canadian Aboriginal Music Awards in 2011.

The drummers have several different tribal affiliations: Stoney, Sioux, Blood, Secwépemc, Syilx, Dakelh, Ts'ilhqot'in and Sto:lo First Nations.

Piping by Kevin MacDonald, Piper at Large

TRU piper at large Kevin MacDonald has had the honour of summoning the spirit of Kamloops' Scottish links to the university's convocation ceremonies for the past 20 years.

He has performed internationally as a professional soloist and pipe band member, and wears both the Modern MacDonald and MacDonald of the Isles tartans.

National Anthem

O Canada! is sung at the beginning of each ceremony.

O Canada!
Our home and native land!
True patriot love in all of us command.
with glowing hearts we see thee rise,
The True North strong and free!
From far and wide,
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
God keep our land glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

O Canada!
Terre de nos aïeux,
Ton front est ceint de fleurons glorieux!
Car ton bras sait porter l'épée,
Il sait porter la croix!
Ton histoire est une épopée
Des plus brillants exploits.
Et ta valeur, de foi trempée,
Protégera nos foyers et nos droits.
Protégera nos foyers et nos droits.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS

TRU's Honorary Degrees are awarded by the Board of Governors on the recommendation of the TRU Senate. The Honorary Doctorate is the highest form of recognition offered by TRU and is awarded to persons of provincial, national or international stature who have demonstrated excellence in the fields of public affairs, the sciences, arts, humanities, business or philanthropy, with achievements both relevant and appropriate to TRU.

Mona Jules
Doctor of Letters, honoris causa

Elder Mona Jules is a member of the Simpcw First Nation, a respected researcher and Secwepemcstín Language Instructor who has devoted her career to fostering and revitalizing her traditional language. Jules has encouraged the proliferation of the Secwepemcstín language through her lifetime of work and, more recently, alongside the Secwépemc Cultural Education Society and First Voices by creating a living database and historical record of Secwepemcstín. Throughout her career, Jules has worked as a Secwépemc language instructor, including her time as a sessional instructor for Secwepemcstín at TRU. Most recently, she rejoined Simon Fraser University through its Language Program at the Shuswap Nation Tribal Council to continue to innovate Secwepemcstín curriculum and help increase understanding of the language in political spheres. She has also contributed to the development of a Secwépemc language spoken calendar, dictionary, additional digital recordings and written curriculum. Jules' efforts to reclaim and revitalize Indigenous language through education and advocacy exemplify the respect for Indigenous knowledge and the values of inclusion that TRU strives to foster in its students.

Vera Schiff
Doctor of Letters, honoris causa

Vera Schiff is a Holocaust survivor, award-winning author and educator who has devoted her life to spreading the message of tolerance and morality. Born in Prague, Czechoslovakia in 1926, Schiff's life was forever changed after Nazi Germany occupied the country in 1939. At 16, Schiff and her family were deported to Theresienstadt, a transit camp for Jews en route to extermination camps. Schiff spent three years in subhuman conditions, watching on as her parents, sister and grandmother perished. She was liberated in 1945 by the Russian army and she and her husband left Czechoslovakia in 1949, spending 12 years in Israel before emigrating to Canada in 1961. In Ontario, Schiff worked as a haematologist at Toronto General Hospital. In 1991, she retired and revisited her tragic memories of life in Theresienstadt. She devoted her time to reflecting on and speaking about her experiences and has written seven books. Schiff's message on the need for resistance and moral action have contributed to the betterment of humanity and exemplify the determination and pursuit of justice that TRU strives to foster in its students.

TRU Medal in Business Administration: Kennedy Aberdeen

TRU Medal in Commerce: Logan Williams

VALEDICTORIAN

Kennedy Aberdeen

Kennedy Aberdeen graduates from the graduates from the Bachelor of Business Administration Honours program with an Accounting Major and Minor in Theatre. Throughout her studies, Aberdeen has balanced her creative and applied passions, serving as a supplemental learning leader, teaching assistant and scribe for the accounting department and performing in She Kill's Monsters and A Midsummer Night's Dream. In 2017, she went on study abroad to Chapman University in California. On her return, she became a Study Abroad Ambassador while also serving as president and founder of the TRU Pre-Law Society and leading public speaking workshops from 2017 to 2020. Her hard work earned Aberdeen many accolades, including the Ken Lepin Business Student of the Year Award, Kamloops/Cariboo CPA Chapter Award, KPMG Student Scholars to Business Award, International Mobility Study Abroad Exchange Award and TRU Study Abroad Ambassador Award. She also received the Chartered Professional Accountants' Education Foundation of BC scholarship, TRU Foundation Undergraduate Achievement scholarship and the North Kamloops Rotary/Marvin Stone Memorial Scholarship. Aberdeen plans to pursue her Juris Doctorate.

VALEDICTORIAN

Jaden Stefanyk

Jaden Stefanyk graduates with a Human Services Diploma. Throughout the program, Stefanyk has adopted the theories and approaches she has learned into her practice as a mental health worker for Interior Health. Throughout her most recent studies, she has maintained a place on the Dean's list while also working towards a Bachelor of Science in Social Work at TRU. She was a guest panel speaker at TRU's Becoming Your Own Matriarch Event. Stefanyk continues to advance her education into a Masters of Social Work with a focus on the correlation between eating disorders, mental health and substance abuse.

FACULTY OF LAW

Law Society of British Columbia Gold Medal: Heather Maki

VALEDICTORIAN

Arjun Singh Hair

Arjun Singh Hair graduates with a Juris Doctorate degree. Throughout his studies, Hair enjoyed making a real difference through his involvement with Faculty Council, the South Asian Students Association, the Black Law Students Association, the Women and Law Society and the Oral Advocacy Club. He was also President of the Society of Law Students (SLS), sat on the SLS Conference Committee and was elected the second year Law School Representative; all while serving as editor for the Canadian Journal of Comparative and Contemporary Law. Hair rounded out his intellectual prowess with physical literacy as a member of TRU's Basketball Club and founder of the Sports and Entertainment Law Club. Continuing to challenge himself and make a positive impact on his community, Hair ran fundraisers for the TRU Outlaws, Pivot Legal Foundation, the Elizabeth Fry Society and Movember. Hair plans to complete his articles and become a lawyer, after playing lots of video games.

SCHOOL OF NURSING

TRU Medal in Nursing: Victoria Dean

VALEDICTORIAN

Michael Anthony Cundari

Michael Anthony Cundari graduates with a Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree. With incredible support from TRU's personable nursing faculty, Cundari engaged in hands-on clinical practices that allowed him to apply and refine the theoretical knowledge he gained throughout his program. He further strengthened his foundational nursing skills while working through the Employed Student Nurse program. Cundari served as vice-president of the TRU Nursing Undergraduate Society, which facilitates student-focused events encouraging a stronger on-campus nursing community. He received the Peter Young Award, BC Nurses' Union Member Education Bursary, the Frederick and Elizabeth Willett Estate Bursary and the Lee, Ure, Bell Memorial Bursary. Cundari plans to begin working on a medical-surgical ward at Royal Inland Hospital while he continues his critical care education and pursues his ultimate goal of working in an Intensive Care Unit.

Oluwafemi Francis Ogunyemi

Oluwafemi Francis Ogunyemi graduates with a Bachelor of Science degree with a Major in Chemical Biology. Ogunyemi thrived in the program, engaging in hands-on experiential learning that led to many research opportunities including his work as a research assistant striving to create more sustainable undergraduate laboratories. He completed a co-op placement at Australian Laboratory Services in Calgary working as a laboratory analyst and received TRU's Undergraduate Research Experience Award Program Scholarship which funded his investigation into the interaction between bisphenols and serum albumin; a study of how the chemical compound can harmfully affect human health. Ogunyemi served as co-president of the Chemistry Biochemistry Club (CBC), through which he provided educational support to other students and participated in the annual PIT stop program. Further to his volunteerism with CBC, Ogunyemi supported TRU's Family Night of Science, the Open House, EUReKA! science camp and Chemistry Contest as well as school district 73's Cariboo Mainline Regional Science Fair, Big Brothers Big Sisters in-school mentoring and Operation Red Nose. He received the University Prep Award as well as the UREAP and Dr. Sherman Jen Science scholarships. Ogunyemi plans to pursue a career in research and medicine after graduation.

Ginger Powell

Ginger Powell graduates from the Horticulture Certificate program. Powell found the Horticulture program interesting, challenging and, most importantly, in alignment with her passion for sustainable growing—by planting seeds, watching them germinate in the greenhouse and seeing them grow into mature plants that could be eaten or planted. During her time at TRU, Powell excelled in academics, which earned her the Steve & Jing Wong Excellence in Horticulture Award. Powell is open to what the future holds and is confident and happy that she found a career she's passionate about, and looks forward to working for a landscape company in Kamloops this summer. She would like to return to TRU in the fall to complete the Horticulture Management Diploma.

Harmony Bercar, School of Nursing

Harmony Bercar graduates from the Practical Nursing program. After 20 years of working in tourism, Bercar decided a career change was in order and enrolled at TRU, thankful for the opportunity to pursue a new goal while remaining in the city where she was born and raised. She was active on the Williams Lake campus throughout her program, completing a School of Nursing work study position and volunteering for the TRU Gala in 2018. She maintained a position on the Dean's List throughout the program and received the TRU Grit scholarship for her academic achievements. She plans to work as a nurse while continuing her education and intends to pursue a Bachelor of Science in Nursing in the fall.

FOUNDATION

Congratulations on achieving this life-changing milestone!

While the final weeks before graduation were far from traditional, your accomplishment is very real.

The books, assignments, exams and hours of study are now over, but a new journey is about to begin. The days going forward will bring resumés, interviews, first days on the job or perhaps further studies. We are living in uncertain times, but one thing remains clear: your future is wide open.

Today, the TRU Foundation board, staff and volunteers celebrate your current and future successes. Most importantly, we celebrate your happiness.

We hope the education you received here at TRU takes you far and helps you become the best possible version of yourself. As you move forward on your next journey, reflect on the hurdles you have overcome. Remember everyone who has supported your education and think about the moments when you needed help so that you will recognize how you may help others one day.

As cliché as it sounds, we hope you find ways of making the world a better place. We can all do something to help others.

The TRU Foundation was created to help students overcome some of the obstacles they may face in pursuit of education. As a non-profit society, we raise money to provide financial support and scholarships to more than 1,000 students every year. Generations of TRU graduates, just like you, have donated millions of dollars to help others achieve the very same milestone you have just reached.

Now it's your turn to help someone else reach their dream of an education at TRU.

As a new graduate, you might not have much money to give. The amount, however, is not what matters most. Overall, the most important thing is that once combined, every single dollar makes a difference. As one of your classmates said when speaking to a group of donors last fall, "Your gift can be anything, but it means everything." That's true. If a donation is not an option right now, consider beginning with a gift of time. Volunteers are important and highly valued by the Foundation.

As you forge ahead on your new path, we ask you to remember those following in your footsteps.

Make a tax-deductible donation or become a volunteer.

ALUMNI FOR LIFE

Dear graduates,

Congratulations on your academic achievement at TRU.

We recognize that despite these times of major change, anxiety and uncertainty, you have persevered and worked hard to complete your educational journey. We are so proud of your accomplishments and invite you to stay connected.

The end of school has been so very different this year and we realize that it may feel too soon to leave campus and say goodbye to friends, faculty and the university where you grew so much. Under normal circumstances, transitioning out of university is more gradual, shared and celebrated alongside your classmates. But this year, as your last semester came to a close and your final exams written, you likely did not have a chance to say goodbye and come to terms with the end of this chapter in your life.

We are truly sorry you have lost this special time and we are here to support you. The alumni office has programs to help you stay connected, build networks and enhance your career strategies. There is something for everyone.

Whatever your future holds, know that graduation does not represent the end of your connection to TRU. We have helped prepare you for your next chapter and we want to follow your story. Our alumni office has programs supporting you and helping you stay connected not only to us, but also other alumni, classmates and the friends you made along the way.

The group of TRU alumni you are joining stretch across the globe. Today, TRU is represented in 87 countries. I encourage you to engage with your global community of TRU alumni – stay connected and find strength and support in uncertain times.

TRU has seen continued growth for the past 50 years, since its inception as Cariboo College in 1970. You will always be part of the TRU community and we will always celebrate your achievements.
