Overview of the Appeals Process

STEP 1 (STUDENT)

- Fill out the applicable portion of the form to explain to the Open Learning Faculty Member (OLFM) delivering your course the issue or decision that you are appealing and your proposed resolution to the issue.
- Enter your information at the top of Page 3.
- Sign this form with your digital signature (click here for a tutorial on how to enter your digital signature).
- You will be prompted to save the form to your computer.
- Do not make any changes to the form after you sign it.
- Compose an email to your OLFM and attach a copy of the assignment (if applicable) and this signed form.

STEP 2 (OPEN LEARNING FACULTY MEMBER)

- Your OLFM will review the details of your appeal, enter his or her comments, digitally sign and save the form to his or her computer and email the form back to you.

STEP 3 (STUDENT)

- If you are not satisfied with the OLFM's response, you may forward this form, digitally signed by you and your OLFM, and a copy of the assignment (if applicable) to the Acting Director of Program Delivery, Sarah Langlois at slanglois@tru.ca.

STEP 4 (ACTING DIRECTOR OF PROGRAM DELIVERY)

- The Acting Director of Program Delivery will review the details of your appeal as described on this form, enter comments in the space provided, digitally sign the form and email it back to you.
- The Director will include the name of the Dean to whom you should speak if you wish to proceed.
- If there is no applicable Dean, the Director will indicate as such and you should skip to Step 7.

STEP 5 (STUDENT)

- If you are not satisfied with the Director's response, you may forward this form, the assignment, and the letter to the OLFM to the appropriate Dean.

STEP 6 (DEAN)

- The Dean will review the details of the appeal as described on this form, enter comments in the space provided, digitally sign the form and email it back to you.

STEP 7 (STUDENT)

- If you are not satisfied with the Dean's response, you may mail the appeal documents (this signed form and the assignment) plus the formal academic appeal fee to the Office of Student and Judicial Affairs at:
