

2016 TRU Learning Award

Brayden Hearne

School of Business and Economics

“Taking advantage of all types of opportunities” is how Brayden Hearne describes his time at TRU. Recognizing that learning happens in many contexts, not just in the classroom, Brayden mindfully reflects on how his various learning experiences, curricular and co-curricular, have shaped him as a learner. Making connections between his study of Business, love of sports, and commitment to environmental sustainability, Brayden effectively documents his learning pathway by providing evidence of his learning, exemplifying what it means to be a TRU Learner by modeling this thinking for others.
